Garrett Powell and Newt. Hambrick helped out the first ties used on the first railroad built in the United States. It was the road from Lexington to Frankfort. Work was commenced on it in 1831 and it was finished in 1833. Originally stone ties were used in place of wooden ties. The cars were drawn by horses. They were operated in this way for five or six years, when steam was introduced on the road and wooden ties substituted for the stone ties. Fielding Hambrick, then living in the Dry Run neighborhood, had a contract for furnishing ties, and Messrs. Powell and Hambrick were employed in helping to get them in shape.—Georgetown Times.

This is a portion of Rev. Clarence C. Miller's funeral discourse over the body of Congressman A. N. Martin at Hurlford, Ind.: "It would have been better," said Mr. Miller, "if Mr. Martin would have been shot on the field of battle than to have lived to lead the life he did. He was in public office the better portion of his life and made in one office $100,000, but was sent home for burial in a cheap pine coffin, furnished by the government. His life was a tragedy, and the use of liquor made it so." During the services the widow and daughter expressed a desire to be taken from the church.

"A boozey husband on the way home met his wife, who had planned to scare him. She had disguised herself to look like the Devil, and the husband encountered her. 'Hic, hic,' he sputtered, 'who are you, anyway?'"

"'I'm the Devil,' responded the disguised woman. 'Well—hic—if that's—hic—the case—hic—we're good friends. I married—hic—your sister.'"

GARLAND SINGLETON.

Democratic nominee for school superintendent, is about the "runniest" man in the county, and the republicans realizing his ability as a sprinter will more than likely give him no opposition this fall. During Mr. Singleton's term as superintendent he has done much toward the up-building of the public schools and those of this county have never been in a more flourishing condition. He takes great interest in his work and is untiring in his efforts to promote education. Supt. Singleton is a product of the South End of Lincoln and that he stands well in that section of the county is proven by the large vote he gets at the Waynesburg precinct, where he voted before moving to Stanford. Besides being a leader in educational circles, Mr. Singleton is a leading spirit of the Baptist church here and frequently "talks out in meeting" there. With nobody against him and the probability that he will not have opposition, it is a "sure thing" that he will have charge of the public schools of Lincoln county for four years longer.

A Little Rock, Ark., dispatch says: A Texas detective placed under arrest a supposed young woman who had been teaching a private school in Madison county for some time. It turned out that the school teacher was a man in disguise, that his name was Sears, and that he was wanted in Texas on the charge of a murder committed seven years ago. It is said that he was a most engaging person and that the young men of the community had gotten up a great rivalry on his account. No one had ever suspected the deception. When arrested he had in his possession $3,000 in cash carried in a belt.

Is a Candidate for National Commissioner for the 2d District, subject to the will of the democracy.

It was a very sensible conclusion to leave the war tax of 50c on marriage licenses. People are going to buy them. It matters not what the price, and it is about the happiest and best way a fellow can help the government along. A man who would remain an old bachelor because of an exorbitant fee for his marriage license hasn't experienced the bliss of true love and is hardly fit to let remain a citizen of the country. Let the tax stay and Uncle Sam can make it better if he likes.

ONLY about 5,000 republicans took part in the primary in Louisville Tuesday, which goes to show that the vote of that party in the 3rd Congressional district is rapidly decreasing. Sapp's ticket went through like greased lightning and James F. Grinstead beat P. Booker Reed for mayor hands down. There is much soreness over the machine ruled primary, as the dirty Louisville Post calls it, and everything looks good for democratic success this fall.

THE Jones family at Scottsville believe in divorce. A dispatch from there says that Dick Jones, his sons, Sam and Tom, and daughter, Mary, have all instituted suits for divorce, charging infidelity. The dispatch don't state what the sisters, cousins and aunts of the Jones family propose to do in the divorce line, but they will have to get a move on themselves if they keep up with this family.

TWO so-called sound money democrats got on the republican ticket put out in Mercer and the lesson they will get this fall will be of value to them. This is not a year for "hop-overs," and the hogging that will be administered to them in November will make 'em wish they had looked before they leaped and remained with the party of white people and decency.

THE expenditure for pensions for the fiscal year ending June 30 was $138,531.49, an increase over 1900 of $69,354. There are 997,834 names on the roll. All this and the civil war has been over 36 years. What's the matter with giving the whole thing over to the pension grabbers?

IT turns out that a republican named Dick is behind the movement to organize a bolt from the recent democratic convention in Ohio. Democrats who would let a rad put bolting notions in their heads are worse than republicans themselves and ought to go to the enemy and stay.

THE dispatches inform us that the county clerk of Rowan will not recognize Gov. Beckham's appointee for county judge and will call the fiscal court together to elect a judge. Since when was a county clerk a bigger man than the governor.

A clergyman in Arcola, Ill., has offered the children a cent for each member of the congregation they catch asleep during services. The church debt is being fast wiped out and the pastor no longer sighs for his salary.

THE Louisville Post prints its editorials and a chapter from the Bible on the same page, thus giving the antidote to the poison. It looks very much, however like the devil quoting scripture.

THE Louisville Post must have had Deboe in mind when it published: "I seen," said the statesman impressively, "that it were my duty to write a piece. Which I then done so."

POLITICAL.

Jas. P. Adams has been nominated for representative by the republicans of Breathitt, Magoffin and Lee counties.

Daniel S. Lamont is being talked of by democrats for governor of New York, and recent visits to his country home by David B. Hill have strengthened this talk.

S. E. Booth, of Anderson county, will be a candidate for State prison commissioner.

The republican Legislative convention of the Morgan-Wolfe district nominated John T. Graham, of Wolfe county.

Two-thirds of the voters of Louisville did not participate in either the democratic or republican primaries held.

There are 55 voters in this county bearing the name of Divine, but only 14 of them are democrats.—Harrodsburg Democrat.

The State election commission is called to meet at Frankfort July 29 for the purpose of organizing. Allen Smith, of Louisville, is tipped for secretary.

The difference between democratic and republican county tickets over the State is: The democratic nominees are picked men; the republicans will be after the November election.—Glasgow Times.

Ex-Congressman Towne, of Minnesota, says the democratic party has had enough of Bryan and silver, and that Hill will be the nominee for president in 1904, with Bryan leading a third party movement.

Senator Deboe has issued an address to the citizens of Kentucky in which he hurled defiance at his enemies and defended himself from his critics. He claims credit for initiating the national policy on the Philippine question.

It is announced from Washington that the Louisville postoffice is not to have the increased salaries and services of the $500,000 class, because of the boosting of stamp sales. The same applies to the Indianapolis postoffice.

Mr. Bryan, in his comment on the Ohio democratic convention, criticizes that body for its failure to reaffirm the Kansas City platform and insists that the convention made a mistake in making himself (Bryan) an issue. He says he is not a candidate for any office.

A Maryland farmer tied a lightning rod to his head and walked out into a storm. He wanted to experience a new sensation and an accommodating thunderbolt promptly knocked him out. Roosevelt, Odell, Lodge, Fairbanks and Washburn feel much encouraged.—Louisville Times.

P. Booker Reed, of Louisville, announced that he would not run for mayor on an independent ticket. He denounced the machine tactics, and says he will seek revenge against Collector Sapp. Mr. Reed said he could not understand how Mr. Grinstead could accept the nomination.

Messrs. Powers and Howard say if they were turned loose they could find the assassins of Gov. Goebel. Their search would be entirely unnecessary. Everybody knows where the assassins are. Two of them are in the Frankfort jail, one in the penitentiary, some of them are in Indianapolis, a few in the mountains and the rest are scattered around in the city of Louisville, and are pointed out to the public every day.—Paducah Democrat.

Mercer county republicans put out the following ticket Monday and what the democrats will do for it in November will be a plenty: Marvin Wash, county judge; Wes Cardwell, representative; W. Lawson Sumrall, city attorney; McClung McAfee, sheriff; John Wilson, county clerk; John Grower, jailor; James Jackson, assessor; Owen Hieronymous, coroner. This makes a full ticket with the exception of the offices for county attorney and superintendent of schools, leaving Messrs. Warren Allin and C. C. Walker without opposition.

THIS AND THAT.

Three Negro murderers were hanged simultaneously at Nashville.

H. S. McGinniss, aged 70, and a well-known teacher, is dead at Junction City.

A ten-year-old son of John Lederman was killed by lightning in Laurel county.

Federal Judge Baker, at Indianapolis, decides that betting on "futures" is not gambling.

The United States government has bought the Havana dry dock from Spain for $185,000.

Mrs. Ed Howard, of Graves county, was struck by lightning and killed while standing in her kitchen door.

E. M. Salla, a Ben Hur lodge organizer, committed suicide by lying on a railroad track and allowing a train to run over him near Louisville.

Heat was a factor in two deaths in Louisville, yesterday. C. C. Hoskins expired at the jail and George Liebold was found dead on the floor of his room.

J. W. Drye has bought 33 acres of land from Add James, near McAfee, for $12 an acre with the wheat crop on it. The newly purchased land adjoins that of Mr. Drye's home place.—Harrodsburg Democrat.

Aldermen Veach and McMichael and Councilmen Scott and Warren have brought suit against C. B. Lowry, chairman of the board of aldermen of Lexington, and Policemen Reagan, Brown, Hayes and Overly for $20,000 damages, each bringing a separate suit for $5,000 for false arrest. On warrants sworn out by Lowry the four members of the council were arrested by the officers on July 2 and brought into the councilman's chamber, where they were forced to sit during the election of a back tax collector.

MT. VERNON.

A new brick kiln is under way. Blackberries are plentiful at 5c per gallon.

The order of L O T M. is increasing at this place.

The bank of Mt. Vernon is making a splendid showing.

Houk & Adams bought a car-load of corn at Brodhead at $2.50 and shipped to this place.

The central and southern portion of this county had a good rain Wednesday afternoon.

The school book trust and an independent concern are fighting for the adoption of their books in this county.

Among the new candidates for county judge on the republican ticket appear the names of S D Lewis, an attorney and former circuit clerk; A. K. McClary, a farmer, and Jas. I. White, once sheriff of this county. All the precincts haven't been heard from yet and the dozen candidates for this office may have more company at the primary.

S. C. Franklin, our jeweler, who started a ginseng nursery a short while since, wishes through your scribe, to compliment the INTERIOR JOURNAL on its wide circulation. Mention was made in the Mt. Vernon letters two or three times about what was being done by Mr. Franklin in his ginseng garden. He has received letters from seven different States asking or giving information on culture and care of ginseng.

The ballast crushers at Mullins Station and Sparks' Quarry are running full capacity. The Kentucky Free-stone Company at Langford still has a large force quarrying and sawing stone for their big trade North and East. White's Quarry is shipping foundations, curbing and stone for other purposes. The coal people at Pine Hill are doing a good business, the saw-mills are working, tan-bark, staves and other lumber shipments are good, blackberries are ripe, candidates are thick and lively, therefore it is plainly seen that Rockcastle is by no means lull.

Wells Hardin had an examining trial here before Judge Williams Tuesday on the charge of killing Frank Taylor at Boone Gap in October 1883. He was acquitted. After the killing Hardin fled to Indiana and later to Illinois, where he remained until a short time ago when he returned to this county and was arrested a few days since. The evidence went to show that the parties had fallen out over a woman some days before the tragedy. Hardin was at a saion, saw Taylor coming, left, was followed by Taylor to the woman's house where Taylor drew his pistol, attempted to use it but it failed to work. Hardin then shot him through the neck. Taylor fell after pursuing Hardin 50 yards. Hardin, on the advice of his father, went to Indiana to prevent violence from Taylors brothers. Hardin married in his adopted State, has an interesting family and is doing well.

Bragg Thompson, Lancaster, and McKenzie Brown, Georgetown, are sojourning here with relatives and playing three games of base ball daily. J. W. Brown was in Livingston Tuesday assisting Bill Dillion in fish yards and —Judge McClure has improved sufficiently to go to his office. Mrs. W. T. Short is making a three weeks' visit to her parents in Arkansas. Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Lawrence have gone to Harlington, where Mr. L. will resume the telegraph business under Dispatcher W. F. Sheridan. C. C. Williams was in Crab Orchard Wednesday. Little Hobart White had a fall Tuesday and was painfully injured. F. H. Hardy, the White Rock lime man, was in Danville Monday. Lee Porter, the gentlemanly clerk, of Orlando, is visiting relatives in Jackson county. J. J. Cook, the excellent deputy county clerk, has our thanks for courtesies extended. Granville Adams, of Crab Orchard, is now section foreman at this place. Frank Spratt, of Lowell, went to Livingston Thursday.

CHURCH MATTERS.

Rev. R. B. Mahony asks us to state that he can not fill his appointment at Pleasant Point Sunday next.

George Kilgman's meeting continues in interest. The morning services are held at their house of worship on Lancaster Street and the evening services at the court-house.

Four endeavor societies, numbering 420 members, have been formed among the Boer prisoners in Ceylon. These added to the seven societies at St. Helena make 12, with 970 members.

Rev. J. O. A. Vaughn, of Danville, will preach at the Methodist church here next Sunday morning. The pastor, Rev. W. E. Arpold, requests a full attendance of the members, as a very important matter is to be brought to the attention of the church at that service.

The Louisville Store's Great Closing Out Sale To Quit Business.

is the absorbing topic, and well it may be, for never in all your life, never in the history of Stanford, were such money-saving chances. It will pay you to buy now, even if you don't need the goods for immediate use; a time will come when you will need them; nothing is more certain.

Don't Delay Coming!

Time is short—only a few short months and the Louisville Store, the cheapest store in Stanford, will be no more. LOCALS.

BUG FINISH at Craig & Hocker's. HUSTONVILLE FAIR, July 31--three days. TO FARMERS.—We are still running our mill at the same place. J. H. Baughman & Co.

LOOK at Severance & Sons' ad. They mean to close out their summer goods if prices will do it. REMEMBER that our terms are cash. Low cash prices on feed of all kinds. J. H. Baughman & Co.

SHIRT waist problem solved. New attachment to convert any shirt into a shirt waist at Cummins & McClary's. THE fiscal court met Tuesday and accepted a number of bids for keeping the pikes in repair. The turnpike roads of the county were laid off into districts, giving each magistrate a similar amount of pikes.

Go to Craig & Hocker's for perfect fitting spectacles.

THE pension of the late John T. O'Hair has been increased to $8.

PLENTY hand-made harness of the latest pattern on hand. J. C. McClary. DEATH.—Rev. Luelen Purdom died at his home near Milledgeville Sunday of consumption.

No such prices ever made before in Stanford as Severance & Sons are making on wash goods.

We have plenty of chicken feed and shipstuf on hand. Will sell cheap. J. H. Baughman & Co.

DON'T fail to get some of those cotton covers on cleaning up counters at 5c per yard. Severance & Sons.

FOR SALE OR RENT.—Residence on Upper Main, diagonally opposite the College. Inquire of E. C. Walton.

FINED.—George Craig, for bouncing a brick bat off of Will Baughman's head, was fined $10. Both are colored.

A HAIN rain fell in the Turnersville section between 1 and 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Stanford unfortunately missed it.

THE Neal's Creek school, Miss Alice Phillips teacher, will begin Monday, next, 21st. Mr. James Burke, who is a trustee, asks us to request parents to send their children on the first day.

READ on another page the advertisement of the Danville fair. The exhibition this year promises to eclipse all former efforts, while the other attractions will equal the best in the county.

THE Hustonville base ball team beat our boys 10 to 2 there Tuesday afternoon, but they had to get a Danville pitcher to do it. With strictly home players only, Stanford's base ball team is almost invincible.

HUSTONVILLE.—Come in and see the great reduction of prices on tailor-made suits I am offering for July and August. Don't buy a ready-made suit when you can have one made to order just as cheap. A. J. Adams.

THE program of the Sunday school picnic to be given at Green River church Yosemite, tomorrow is a lengthy and comprehensive one and a big time is expected. Dozens of young people will take part in the exercises.

THE fifth anniversary picnic of Stanford Lodge No. 2,940, G. U. O. of O. P. and Household of Ruth, No. 480, will be given in J. S. Hocker's park on cut off pike on Saturday, Aug. 10, when a big day for the colored brother is expected.

BELGIAN HARES.—Thomas W. Varnon, little son of Judge W. E. Varnon, tells us that he is going into the Belgian Hare business. He has ordered a lot and will raise them to sell. They cost him $5 a pair, but he hopes to sell them at a lower price later.

THE familiar face of Capt. Thos. H. Bell, who has been handling the mails at Junction City for the past 15 years, will be missed. He has been transferred by the postoffice department to Louisville, where he will fill a similar position. W. F. Cleary, of Indianapolis, has been stationed at Junction City temporarily.

THE catalogues for the Liberty fair, Aug. 14, 15 and 16, are in press at this office and will be ready in a few days. Liberal premiums are offered in every ring and every thing points to the next fair being the best Liberty has ever had. J. C. Coulter is president and G. R. Wilkinson, (Haw), is secretary, while the board of directors is composed of the best men in the county. Special premiums amounting to about $300 have been obtained.

FIRE.—E. T. Rogers' house at Rowland burned Tuesday night, including most of the contents. Fire originated in the kitchen about 10 o'clock and Mrs. Rogers and little son had a narrow escape from burning, as they were asleep and were not awakened until the flames had gotten under headway. Mr. Rogers was at Crab Orchard at the time, or more of the contents might have been saved. The house was a good one and cost W. H. Dudderar, who built it, about $1,200. The smoke-house, well-filled with meat, was also destroyed. Mr. Rogers' loss is about $1,750, with $750 insurance in the Kentucky Growers Insurance Co. of Lexington.

Nobody but a "darn fool," to which class Owen McIntyre, of the Advocate, seems to properly belong, would have construed as he did the item about the Danville man saying that the Hustonville and Pan-American fairs were the only ones in the country this year. "Mac" is entirely too sensitive about his fair, but as he has shown such deep interest in the enterprise we have decided to use our influence with Secretary Bright to get him a "comp." He'll do well, however, if he gets inside the grounds at all at the Hustonville fair after his "huge joke" about changing that town's name. Write up the town again and you may then stand a show to gain entrance for the small sum of 50c.

25c MADRAS at 10c. Severance & Sons.

WHITE, grey and black silk gloves. Severance & Sons.

CHICKEN feed and shipstuf cheap for cash. J. H. Baughman & Co.

THE L. & N. will sell round trip tickets to Cincinnati Sunday at $1.50. Twelve hours in the city.

We have waited patiently on you for the money due July 1. If you don't come around this week, well call on you. Beazley Bros.

IN 10 days the best fair Lincoln county has ever had will be held at Hustonville. Make your preparations to go the first day and stay until it is over.

BLACKBERRIES are selling at 5c a gallon in Boyle, but are scarce here at 8c. It takes poor land for the luscious blackberry, hence the big crop in our adjoining county.

"ALL I have collected since June 1 is a plugged quarter and two bushels of mildewed potatoes," wails Editor Landrum, of the Central Record. We might add that collections are not much better here, but we won't do it.

HELD OVER.—Perry Rout, a colored boy, was tried yesterday for stealing $10 from Hilgins & McKinney's cash drawer and held over to circuit court in $50, which he has failed to give. He had several pocket knives, which he had evidently gotten from the above place, for which he worked.

A CORRECTION.—By some means a little mistake crept into the Hustonville fair catalogue and it was necessary to insert an errata. Rings No. 48 and 49 should read stallion instead of gelding, as follows: No 48, best stallion, three years old and under four $10; No 49, best stallion four years old and over, $20.

J. H. COLLIER, of Crab Orchard, is known by his friends as the "telephone pole man." He has bought and shipped 50-odd car-loads of the poles in the last few months and is figuring on another big contract. This has brought to the East End of Lincoln about $1,500 and is proving a good thing both to Mr. Collier and those from whom he buys the poles. The Central Construction Co., with main office in Lexington, got most of the shipments.

HIS many friends in this county will regret to hear of the sudden death of Dr. W. E. Dalley at his home in Paris, Texas, on the 14th instant. He was born at Hustonville, and when quite young his parents moved to Honey Grove, Texas, where he afterwards married Miss Jennie Hallinger, who also went to that place from this county. Dr. Dalley and family lived here several years after the war and then returned to Texas. His wife and four out of five children survive him. One of his sons lost his life in the Galveston cyclone.

OLD GARDENER.—Mr. R. B. Woods, who is close to the 87th milestone in the journey of life, told us yesterday that he has a two-acre garden in which he attends to himself and in which he takes much pride. "I use a long handled hoe, for if I had to walk as much as I dig, I would break down," he said. "You've enough of this world's goods, what do you work for?" we asked. "If I didn't have work to do I would die. I've been working for nearly 80 years and I can't stop now," he remarked. The old gentleman is getting infirm bodily, but mentally he is as sound as a dollar and is a most entertaining talker.

A WHITE woman, whom a doctor said had an abundant supply of whiskey, morphine, &c, on board, created considerable excitement here yesterday. She walked through a number of residences without ringing the door bells and made herself at home generally by helping herself to whatever she chose. She was finally marched up the street by a couple of gentlemen who did not like the kind of visits she was making and when near the court-house she had what seemed to be a fit. The things that she had taken were recovered and she was landed in jail to sober up. She told several people that her husband, who was in the outskirts of town, had sent her in to beg.

HUSTONVILLE.

Big preparations are being made for the fair. W. S. Drye & Co. bought a handsome road mare in Danville for $225.

Mrs. Lena Dollins and children, of Fort Worth, Texas, are visiting the family of J. P. Goodie. Misses Nellie and Bessie Orchard, of Washington City, are guests of Mrs. J. J. Allen. John Wharton, of Boyle, was here this week. Misses Mary and Angie Carpenter are entertaining a house party. They gave an elegant reception yesterday evening. Mrs. Pattie Drye and daughters, Misses Alice and Maybelle Drye, will shortly remove to Lebanon. We regret very much to give them up. Miss Lizzie Bogle, of Lexington, is with her mother here. Miss Lucy Alcorn is at home from New York City. Miss Katherine Alcorn has returned from Chicago. Miss Edna Camnitz is back from a pleasant visit to Mrs. Robert Young in Louisville.

MATRIMONIAL.

George B. England, of Chicago, and Miss Lettie B. Spalding, of Lebanon, will be married Wednesday.

John J. Barnes of Mt. Carmel, Pa., and Miss Edna Mason were married at Ben Martin's, near South Fork, on the 16th.

James Cooley, of Peoria, Ill., and Miss Roberta Gastleau, of Lancaster, were married at Lexington. The groom was compelled to return to his duties in Peoria and wired the bride to meet him.

At Anderson, Ind., when Edward Hazzolden deserted Edith Hawk in the county clerk's office, where they had gone to get marriage license, Samuel Miller, a bystander, stepped forward and married the girl.

Miss May Bradford, daughter of Judge Bradford, of Barbourville, was wedded to Alfred Hall, an Englishman. Three years ago, while visiting a friend at Barbourville, he met Miss Bradford. It was love at first sight. They became engaged. When the war broke out with Spain, Hall went to the Philippines. There he has remained until a few days ago, when he returned to claim his bride. The happy couple left for their future home in England.

The 50 flat glass bottle makers of the United States have formed a $30,000 trust and boosted prices.

Charles Dilke, manager of the Southern Lumber company, at Valley View, died after an illness of only a few hours. Gus Rubin has been offered a purse of $20,000 for a meeting between himself and Jeffries before the Butte, Mont., Olympic Club.

The Epworth League convention was formally opened at San Francisco yesterday afternoon. The Epworth hosts in that city now number 25,000 persons.
